READ ALL ABOUT IT

There are so many opportunities available to you as a bride in your community! You can go to bridal shows, trunk shows, wedding professional forums, meet and greets, and vendor specials. But unless you keep an eye out for these opportunities, you may never know that they are occurring all around you. So crack open that local women's magazine, listen to the radio, search the internet, or check your local newspaper for local events. These resources could alert you to a deal or show that may end up saving you thousands of dollars.
